

Come Celebrate Mother of Pearl – “Wearable Art” - and Make a Difference in the World

Mother of Pearl is literally the mother of the pearl – as women are the mothers of society – peace and community.

Mother of Pearl nurtures the pearl – as women nurture the children of the world.

The exquisite iridescence of Mother of Pearl enhances the beauty of the world – just as women adorn the world with their grace and beauty.

Oysters with their Mother of Pearl shell cleanse the seas – just as women create more peaceful forums throughout the world... cleansing the world of poverty and conflict.

To create peace and alleviate poverty, the people supporting "1000 Women Can Change the World" are offering you a rare opportunity to view, model and purchase the unique artistic creations of Sylvia Gottwald, an internationally known architect and jewelry designer at an Open House on Sunday, November 1, 2009 at 2 pm.

This Open House will raise funds for the "1000 Women" project through a percentage of every purchase, as well as Sylvia's generous donation of a spectacular piece of "wearable art" to the cause. Sylvia's spectacular eco-friendly collection features the iridescent natural beauty of mother of pearl (nacre) set in avant-garde designs combined with man-made materials.

As an NGO/501(c)(3) social enterprise, "1000 Women" works to inspire, enlighten and empower at-risk women worldwide with practical skills through its unique audio information module (AIM) program model.

In honor of October being Domestic Violence Awareness month, "1000 Women" is preparing to launch its program to facilitate and rebuild the lives of women victims/survivors of abuse and domestic violence. Your attendance and donations will help support this worthy cause.

So, if you want to have fun – model Mother of Pearl designer jewelry – imbibe & enjoy nibbles ... all while supporting a cause to empower at-risk women, please join us on Sunday, November 1st at 2 pm in Washington, DC at 2550 28th St NW.
